Springtime greetings from L/L Research!

It's been many months since our last Gatherings Newsletter. The normal flow of gatherings here at Camelot was interrupted last fall by Carla's worsening arthritic condition that eventually resulted in an operation on her spine to fuse eight vertebrae in March of 2010. This put a stop to our gatherings! But now we are looking forward to sharing the news from our end, beginning with the much anticipated...

Homecoming 2010

The winter solstice of 2012 has been much on the radar of spiritual seekers and even made its entrance into the mainstream pop culture. It is easy to get lost on the surface of this occasion. Carla would like to take us deeper by offering seed thoughts on the various principles of the Lo1 as they relate to the upcoming shift and the beginning of fourth density.

There will be three presentations by Carla and three Q&A/free discussion periods following each of these talks. We will also have other participatory events – including an evening of sharing and meditation around a bonfire – and a closing channeling by Carla.

Like last year's Homecoming (see image of previous Homecoming below), the event will be held over Labor Day weekend, beginning Friday, September 3rd at 6:30 PM Eastern, and ending the night of Sunday, September 5th.

To read more information about tuition, meals, lodging, transportation, and curriculum, please click here. To register for this event or ask any questions, please contact Gary, admin for L/L Research, at contact@llresearch.org.

Carla's Surgery & Recovery

Life in a physical body has been extraordinarily difficult for Carla Rueckert the past six months. Beginning in October, 2009, she began experiencing severe nerve pain through her arms and back. What limited capacity she possessed to do work was made even more limited as time went on. First to go was her ability to write, causing the second volume of the successful 101 series to be put on hold. Next to go was her editing work on the transcripts of channeling sessions and interviews before being published to the website. Then went crossword puzzles, then reading.

On March 19th, Carla bravely underwent spinal fusion surgery with the hope of alleviating the nerve pain and restoring her ability to work. Titanium was inserted into no less than eight of her vertebrae in order to reinforce and stabilize her spine. She is now not unlike Wolverine of the X-Men series. Her one concern though is successfully passing through metal detectors on future airplane trips!

Since the 19th of last month, Carla has been in the thick of a slow-moving recovery process. She spends virtually all of her time on her back in a hospital bed, making daily attempts to do some light walking around the first floor of the house and small steps forward in the way of sitting up for brief periods of time. In the fashion of two steps forward, one step back, there is incremental return to strength accompanied by setbacks.

Due to the heart of L/L Research being in such condition, much has needed to be rearranged.

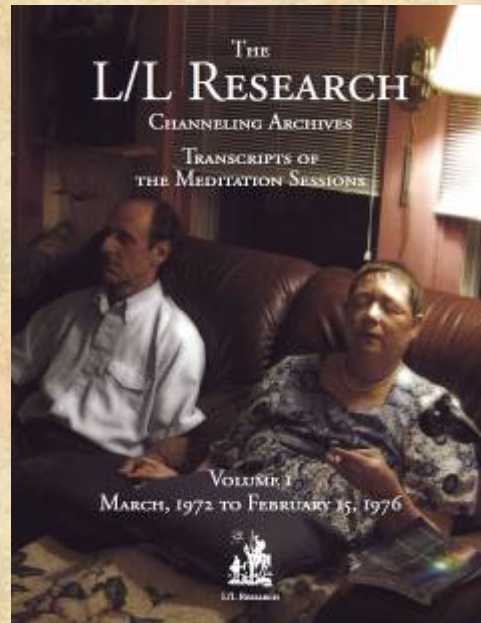

- All personal counseling and channeling – along with Carla’s weekly live chats on the Bring4th website and her A Small Medium at Large column— have been suspended since late last year, not to resume until Carla is back to normal operating condition.
- Workshops have been put on hold until the upcoming Homecoming this year.
- All public meditations have, after the second week of March, been suspended, not to resume until the second week of September, Carla’s health permitting.

All positive energy for Carla’s recovery in the form of prayer, thought, emails, and cards are welcome! To keep up to speed on Carla’s progress, please visit her Camelot Journal on the Bring4th website.

The L/L Research Channeling Archives in Print!

We are thrilled to announce the publication in print of the archives of thirty-five years of L/L Research channeling. Many collectors have written in asking for a printed version of our whole archive to be available, and we are happy to say, “Here it is!”

The eighteen volumes of this archive span the beginnings of our recorded sessions of channeling in the early 1970’s to the end of 2008. Future volumes of this archive will be created as channeling sessions accumulate. Each volume contains 400 pages of our channeling sessions. The sessions remain imperfectly edited, as is the archive as a whole, but nevertheless constitute a fantastic researcher’s resource.

These volumes are tremendously handy as resources for the spiritual seeker. Imagine having the entire L/L archive sitting on your shelf, available whether or not the power is on! And they make a beautiful appearance. The webmaster of our archive site has done a beautiful job of formatting and producing these volumes.

We hope you enjoy using them as much we have enjoyed producing them for you for the last thirty-five years. Each volume is 8.5 x 11 inches in size, 400 pages, with a laminated color cover.

You can purchase our books, The L/L Research Channeling Archives - Volumes 1 - 18, at Lulu.com. The price for each Volume is $30.00. Please click here to go to the L/L Research Storefront on Lulu.

Please click here for a note from the editor of these publications.

Please note that the single-session downloads from our archive website will always remain free for individual study and enjoyment.

Channeling Intensives

Beginning in February, 2008, L/L Research initiated the Channeling Intensives, a series of workshops designed to create new channels for Confederation sources. So far we have hosted six of these intensives: five workshops during Cycle One and one workshop so far in Cycle Two. We have begun a waiting list for Cycle Three.

If you are interested in joining the Channeling Intensives, please send Gary (L/L's admin) an email at the Bring4th Contact Us page. All new applicants will be required to go through an introductory training weekend. This intro weekend will begin sometime in the fall season of 2010, Carla's health permitting. All who have already completed the intro may join the main stream of ongoing Channeling Intensives.

To read the transcripts produced from these intensives, please visit our Channeling Intensives Archive page available by clicking here.

LLResearch.org Updates

Our archive website, www.llresearch.org, has a new search feature. In addition to Google search, you may now search the website from within the search page using Microsoft's new "Bing". This search engine organizes search results differently and may in some cases provide more and/or different results.

Speakers of Russian may now enjoy the Law of One books in their native language thanks to a Russian translation available by clicking here.

Work is underway by a Spanish translator in Spain to get the Law of One books into the second most spoken language in the United States. Currently the first 58 sessions of the Law of One material are available in Spanish here.

Complete versions of the Law of One exist in French and Chinese as well. (Thank you Terry, Mish, & Pilar!)

Bring4th.org Updates

Our previous social networking map that had many pins representing people all over the world went caput. Bring4th's webguy subsequently discovered and integrated an even better social networking map that allows not only the creation of pins, but gives users the chance to share a photo, video, or audio! By clicking here, you can visit our new map and replace your previous pin or create an entirely new one.

Additionally, two new newsletters are now available from the Subscriptions page at Bring4th:

1. The L/L Research Archive Updates (English) is for the seeker interested in staying abreast of new information published in English to www.llresearch.org, the archive website of L/L Research.

Once a week, new channeling sessions, interviews, and presentations published to the archive website will result in an email notification to you.

2. The LOOP (Law of One Prisoner) Newsletter is a publication designed for those spiritual seekers in prisons, or having served in prison, to have a platform from which to communicate those spiritual ideas important or unique to an incarcerated seeker. Participation is limited to the incarcerated but all are welcome to receive the LOOP.

To subscribe to either or both of these newsletters, please visit our Subscriptions page by clicking here.

Adios!

As we send this newsletter out, the tulips and daffodils are fading and the lilac and azalea are in full bloom. The days are marching up to Derby Day here in Louisville. And our little village looks like the southern part of heaven. We hope you are having a wonderful springtime. It is such a blessing to be part of this community of seekers. Thank you everyone for your dreams and hopes for your love and for the opportunity to serve. That is the greatest blessing for all of us here at L/L Research. Carla, Jim, Ian, Romi, Gary, Melissa, Steve, Monica, & Sonia!

Other Law of One Study Groups

The following a list of study groups forming or already formed around the world along with their contact information. Feel free to join them in study if you find yourself in their neck of the woods!

If you would like to see your group added to or removed from this list, please let us know.

The Awakening Project

Ft. Myers, Florida

British Law of One Study Group

Forest Row and Abbots Langley, England

Headed by Ian Bond bond.ian@talktalk.net and

Pupak Haghighi hoopoesong@gmail.com

“Our group meets once a month, usually on a Sunday, we spend part of our time reading parts of ‘Law of One’ material, or some of the Q’uo transcripts. We then share a meal together, which everyone contributes to. If time allows we might go for a walk if it’s not raining too heavily (it’s England here). In the later part of the day we focus on our personal seeking which begins with a period of silent meditation after which we do a round-robin sharing, then ask what is it that we are seeking, each individually and as a group. We call upon and ask the collective group intelligence to address our seeking and usually the response we get through our collective reflection is profound and often satisfying!”

The Chicago Law of One Study Group (TCLOOSG)

Chicago, Illinois

Headed by Steve Moffitt

Maria’s Law of One Study Group

Headed by Maria R

mraiti77@gmail.com

“Meet via videoconferencing software over the internet every Friday night 9 pm EST. Read through, question and discuss approximately one RA session per meeting. Group just started in November of this year. Current participants have all previously met at recent L/L Research Channeling Intensives.”

The Memphis Law of One Study Group

Republic Coffee, 2924 Walnut Grove Rd, Memphis, TN 38111

Led by Dean Graves deangraves@bellsouth.net and

Carol Crane seacrane@bellsouth.net

(901).590 – 1578

“We have public meetings the first Sunday of every month at 2 PM. While the subject matter is centered around the Law of One material, we do diversify the source of our information, using the RA material as the touch stone to put it all into perspective. Individuals with experience in other areas of spiritual study are welcome to share their information with the group. We feel this broadens the understanding of all who attend the meetings.”

Literra Law of One Study Group

Spring Green, WI
Literra@merr.com

“The Spring Green (Wisconsin) Law of One Study Group hosted by Jim and Maxine Pfefferkorn: The monthly meeting (usually for 4 hours on a Sunday afternoon) format starts with a brief meditation, followed by introductions, then opening the floor for discussion of anything attendees wish to explore pertaining to the Law of One, and sometimes Jim will lead us in covering some material from his workbook “The Soul and The Creation, based on the Law of One,” (which is available for $20 plus shipping). We break halfway for some munchies and beverages folks have brought. Socializing during the break is heartwarming and a highlight of the gathering. We reconvene and continue with more discussion and close by gathering in circle and chanting “OM.”

The fellowship has been the most important and fun for the folks who have attended.”

L/L Research Law of One Study Group

Louisville, KY
Led by Carla Rueckert-McCarty and Jim McCarty contact@llresearch.org

Public meditations are held every Saturday at 8 PM from September through May. First and third Saturdays are held for silent meditations, second and fourth Saturdays for channeling meditations, and on fifth Saturdays no mediation is scheduled. All are welcome!
